

APPROPRIATION GRANTED BY THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD COMPANY FOR NEW CHARLEROI STATION

EXPECTED THAT WORK WILL BE BEGUN SHORTLY

Depot Will be One of the Finest in Pennsylvania, Outside the Larger Cities, and Will Contain Three Rooms, Including Smoking Department.

COST WILL BE $20,000

Charleroi will this year, or the early part of next year have completed one of the handsomest and best equipped passenger stations in Western Pennsylvania. Word to this effect was this morning received by E. F. Krahmer, the local agent. An appropriation of $20,000 was granted Wednesday by the head officials of the road for the local station, and now preparations are being made to begin work as soon as possible.

There will be no new freight station erected at this time, only the passenger station, which will include the ticket office, and baggage room. Not only will it be the best along the Monongahela division, but it is doubtful if there is a station in Western Pennsylvania, outside of those in the large cities, which will surpass it in appearance and general accommodations, when it is finished. The plans which are in Division Superintendent A. G. Mitchell's office in Pittsburgh, call for three waiting rooms, one for women, one for men, and a smoking compartment. All the toilet accessories of the up-to-date station will be a part, and the ticket office and baggage room conveniently arranged in the one building.

The structure is to be of brick, with a tile roof, the sides of which will extend several feet allowing room underneath for a driveway. Around the station is to be a lawn, with flower beds and shrubbery beautifying it.

Work will be begun as soon as the contract can be let, and arrangements made. It is expected that this will not be more than a month, and all due haste will be made in completing the structure.

Much credit is due Mr. Krahmer for the granting of such an appropriation for Charleroi. He has been working hard to secure something worth while for this town, and by bidding his time he has succeeded admirably. The railroad company was influenced greatly, however, by the efforts of the Charleroi people in petitioning for a new structure.

Missionary Society Entertains Children Workers of Church

Interesting Program Rendered by Tots and Refreshments are Served.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Missionary Society of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church was held in the lecture room of the church and assumed the form of a reception to the "Light Bearers" and "Cradle Roll." Under the direction of the president, Mrs. Stahlman, the little tots performed their stunts in a manner which was both entertaining and amusing. At the conclusion of the program the regular routine business of the society was gone through with, after which mothers and children were treated to a veritable feast by the hostesses, Mrs. Stahlman, Mrs. Cary Piper and Mrs. Earl Piper. This latter part of the reception was evidently the most pleasing to the children, judging by the size of the smile they wore, as with mint sticks in one hand and ice cream cones in the other they marched out of the church not begrudging the two hours they spent at the reception.

BUSINESS MEN MEET

Several Applications Received and Favorably Acted Upon.

The Business Men's Association at their regular meeting last night received about a dozen new applications for membership and acted upon them favorably. William Kirk, at a director's meeting preceding the regular business meeting, tendered his resignation as secretary of the association, and M. Adams was elected in his place.

Coal Company President Sends Congratulations

Much Pleased With the Outcome of the Rivers and Harbors Bill and Expresses Gratitude.

For his efforts in securing recognition for this district as a member of the Rivers and Harbors committee of Congress, Congressman John K. Tener has received the following explanatory message from Alexander Dempster, president of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company: "Hon. John K. Tener, H. of R. Washington, D. C.

Congratulations on success of your noble efforts in Rivers and Harbors bill. Alexander Dempster, President. The Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company are among the largest holders and miners of coal in Western Pennsylvania, and the success of the Rivers and Harbors bill probably meant more for them than for any other company in Western Pennsylvania.

ESPISCOPALS WIN IN HOT CONTEST FROM CATHOLICS

Two Winning Runs are Scored in the Sixth Inning With Two Out.

The Episcopalians captured the game last night from the Catholics by the score of 7 to 5, through opportune hits, and errors conveniently made while men were on base. The contest was a good one, and was in doubt until the final inning.

The Catholics scored two in the second on two hits, by O'Neil and Mousiaux. In the third the Episcopalians came forward with three runs on two hits and a couple of errors. They got another in the fourth on a hit, a stolen base and an error. The Catholics came back with three in the fifth on a base on balls, two men hit by the pitcher, an error, and a two baser. When, with two out in the sixth, Montgomery singled, and Johnston got hit by the pitcher, through errors and good base running they tallied twice. The score:

PLAY RENDERED AS FEATURE OF CLUB MEETING

Social Gleaners' Entertainment at Baptist Church Last Evening.

The Baptist Social Gleaners' club held their last meeting until September last night at the Baptist church. A good program was rendered, and was listened to by a fair crowd. The principal feature of the program was a playlet, "City vs Country," which was rendered under the direction of Mrs. C. S. Joshua. The characters were taken by Mrs. Joshua, Mrs. C. O. Frye, Miss Jessie Everhart, Rev. C. S. Joshua, Jay Reeves, and Floyd Chalfant. Rev. Joshua gave a lecture on Biblical characters. It is planned to have the meeting in September more elaborate than any that has yet been held with a better program.

CLAIMS THAT COAL COMPANY CAUSED HIM GREAT LOSS

B. C. Winnet of East Pike Run Sues Monongahela River Combine.

This week before Judge McIlvaine at Washington is being tried the case of B. C. Winnet against the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company. The plaintiff, who resides in East Pike Run township, seeks damages for the diverting of a water course on his farm by reason of mining operations carried on under the Jefferson Duvall farm adjoining his. Winnet claims that his farm has been left barren and unproductive and he has sustained serious loss.

Yesterday the jury was taken to the farm. They took dinner at the Wilbur Hotel, Charleroi, and with attorneys who were on the case, went out in the afternoon. There were 22 persons in the party.

Friends Feel No Alarm as to Final Outcome at Primaries

ACHESON'S WORK FUTILE

Washington Man's Attempt to Dictate Political Policies in District Falls Flat.

With this, the closing day of the campaign, the result is now in the hands of the voters for their final decision at the polls tomorrow. While it is not expected that so large a vote will be polled as two years ago, the friends and constituents of Congressman J. K. Tener are not in the least alarmed over his prospects for renomination. A close tab has been kept throughout the district, and no weak spots have shown up anywhere. There is no comparison with the situation two years ago, when former Congressman E. F. Acheson with all the political patronage and appointees, the political organizations in the three counties and the prestige of an unbroken administration of nearly 14 years at his command, was so overwhelmingly defeated by Mr. Tener.

Now, there is no semblance of an organization against the Charleroi candidate. His opponent was brought out through the urgent solicitation of Mr. Acheson, who represented that the local option sentiment in Washington county had grown to such magnitude that Mr. Tener would be overwhelmed when he came up for renomination. The abandonment of local option as an issue in this campaign by the Washington Observer, Mr. Acheson's organ, which has for the last two years kept the griddle hot with assertions as to how this campaign was to be fought out on local option lines, was a surprise to those who were inclined to accept the issue.

The fact that the Observer did not dare to line up a local option Legislative slate and make a fight for it on that issue, as it did two years ago, put a wet blanket on its following. As all the candidates of the slate that the Observer is secretly urging have not declared specifically for local option, their only expression on the subject being a line of "glittering generalities," there is just a faint suspicion that the Observer has other and ulterior motives than conscientious scruples against the liquor traffic and the general moral uplift of the public.

In the Senatorial and Legislative fights the issue is decidedly uncertain. Both Hallam and Anderson, the Republican Senatorial candidates, have made aggressive campaigns, and the friends of each are claiming victory. The Legislative fight is even more complicated. With 12 candidates for the Republican nomination in the field, it is pretty certain that the three that get the largest percentage of the disinterested vote will be the winners. Feeney, the Charleroi candidate who is being backed by the miners' organization, is considered a strong candidate as are also Bentley, Holland, McClay and Valentour who are thought to be among leaders in the race. Dr. Yarnall the California candidate, who was endorsed by the miners of that community, along with Feeney, has also a strong following.

The polls will open tomorrow at 2 o'clock and close at 8. The battle of the ballots will be a hard fought one, and the close contest in every section is expected to bring out the voters.

Primaries June 14th, 1910
Your support and influence respectfully solicited.

Voters, Turn Out.

That Congressman J. K. Tener will carry the borough of Charleroi to-morrow at the primaries goes without saying. It is a matter of pride to give an esteemed and respected citizen as large a vote as possible, and every voter should make it a point to cast his ballot at the election. As a Congressman Mr. Tener has shown his grateful appreciation of the honor and esteem bestowed upon him by his fellow townsmen, and as a citizen with mutual interests at stake his efforts for the district are in keeping with a safe and progressive National policy. He is worthy of all the support that will be given him.

At the primary election two years ago Mr. Tener received 932 votes out of a total of 1,147 ballots cast. This can even be exceeded this year if all the qualified voters will attend the election. Charleroi has over 1,600 registered voters, and as the majority of these are favorable to their townsman, it should be a matter of civic pride to give Mr. Tener as big a complimentary vote as possible. Charleroi should be the banner district in the county.

No Kick Coming.

Those who are trying hard to make an issue on State political bossism, will do well to read the following from the Philadelphia Evening Times, which aptly explains the situation as exists today. The Times says:

"The Republican party in Pennsylvania is freer from attack today than at any other time in the last fifty years. Such is the opinion of keen observers of things political, and even the critics of the State leaders and that clique of men who have formed themselves into an insurgent party.

"While there is the same dissatisfaction as in other States against the policies of the party, and the Democrats are awaiting with pathetic patience an opportunity to destroy the long continued sway of the Republican organization in State and municipal matters, yet the party is not divided, but has a bulwark in Governor Stuart.

"In less than four years, Governor Stuart has strengthened his party and placed it in a position where the reformer can no longer heap calumny or cry 'graft' and 'dishonesty in public office.' No set of his has weakened the party. Rather, he has given it a stability it has not enjoyed in decades, and by his administration has disarmed the opposition in using legitimate issues such as was the Capitol 'graft.' Above all, Governor Stuart has introduced business methods on the hill, and he has been so independent of political influence as to win the acclaim not only of the radical organization men, but of that class of men who are always opposed to those in power - the professional reformers."

With conditions as they are, and the Republican party freer from attack than at any time during the past fifty years, the voters have no kick coming as to political conditions in Pennsylvania at the present time. The administration is in safe hands and the people know it.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

One of the best explanations for a defeated candidate is the laconic but truthful one, "lack of votes."

When an American millionaire manufacturer trades his daughter for an European title, he might buy the family coat of arms to use as a trade mark for beer, cereals, or some other old thing.

One of the troubles of this world is the phony friends you encounter.

One doesn't necessarily need to be an athlete who has the jumping tooth-ache.

Washington county had the largest number of insane persons sent to Dixmont asylum during the past year of any county contributing to the lunatic population there. But there is plenty of justification in the fact that the howling of those raving maniacs over at the county seat drives others mad.

But one more day until some people feel worse off than before they entered the political arena as candidates.

Out of the twelve candidates for Assembly there is bound to be at least nine disappointed ones.

This weather has been referred to and commented upon freely as "some weather." We would say that it is only "some more weather."

The owners of the Brownsville bridge are doubtless hoping against hope that the draughted affair will fall in the river some day to save them the expense of tearing it down.

MODERN MARTYRS.

Those Who Entertain, but Who Suffer While Doing It.

"In a periodical the other day," says the amateur philosopher of the Providence Tribune, "I ran across a picture of what had evidently been a musical entertainment or musicale—I took it to have been a musicale for choice. 'The fiddlers had come, and so had the soloists or soloists and guests. There remained in the foreground the deserted room and a waste of empty chairs, along with the open grand piano.

"The host's head was resting on his arms on a table. The hostess had removed her shoes and was on the verge of collapse. In the background a butler was looking on compassionately.

"Now, there's a good deal of that sort of thing first and last the country over. It was true to life, but I never could understand it—that is, nobody has ever explained to me why people who don't enjoy entertaining or being entertained persist in making martyrs of themselves. Why anybody does something for pleasure that invariably gives pain?

"A person who puts himself out and wears himself out in the line of duty is comprehensible, but why you should sacrifice yourself when you're pretending to be looking for fun is beyond me.

"The woman who said that her idea of a perfect life from the social point of view would be to be asked every where and to go nowhere doubtless expressed the sentiments of thousands but why go anywhere if you feel that way?"

Meat Versus Song.

The great tenor's lunch consisted of a cheese omelet, asparagus, fruit and an ice.

"No meat?" said the reporter. "As little meat as possible," the tenor replied. "Meat kills song. The nightingale, the thrush and lark are grain eaters, and their song is sweet. The carnivorous birds, the crow, etc., only croak. And in countries that go in for excessive meat eating—England, for instance—there are few good voices, while in the more vegetarian countries such as Italy, fine singers abound. Song birds are vegetarians," he concluded. "Carnivorous birds croak."—New York Press.

Her Awful Sin.

A little girl of six once went in great distress to her mother, saying that she had committed a sin which could never be forgiven and which was too bad to be repeated. By dint of a little coaxing she was induced to make a full confession, which was in this wise:

"I felt so sorry for poor Satan and wanted to give him a little comfort. So I got a glass of cold water and poured it down a little hole in the kitchen floor."

Resolutions of Respect

At a regular meeting of Charleroi Lodge No. 390, Fraternal Order of Eagles, held Friday evening, May 27, 1910, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God to remove from our midst our late beloved brother, William Allsopp; and

Whereas, It is but just that a fitting recognition of his many virtues should be had; therefore be it

Resolved, That while we bow with humble submission to the will of the Most High, we do not the less mourn for our brother who has been taken from us.

Resolved, That in the death of William Allsopp this lodge laments the loss of a brother who was ever ready to offer the hand of aid and the voice of sympathy to the needy and distressed of the fraternity; an active member of this society, whose utmost endeavors were exerted for its welfare and prosperity; a friend and companion who was dear to us all; a citizen whose upright and noble life was a standard of emulation to his fellows.

Resolved, That the heartfelt sympathy of this lodge be extended to the bereaved wife and relatives in their affliction.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this lodge, and a copy be transmitted to the family of our deceased brother, and that they be published in the Charleroi Mail and Mirror.

Pitcher Beno of the Catholics looks good.

The Episcopalists are the only team to handle the white-wash brush thus far.

The Christians have signed a new catcher, and the Lutherans have also secured one.

Jay Bechtel has decided not to enter the arena, as he has a bum pedal and a poor wing.

Tommy Barger has not yet rounded into form, but by drinking four gallons of high grade tea per day he hopes for results.

The Baptists have strengthened up their team.

Indications are for a mighty warm race all the way and nobody is as yet wise enough to predict the winner.

The town as a whole has never before manifested such a keen interest in baseball.

The big Epworth League Convention on June 8 will insure a monster crowd that day for the game between the Catholics and Methodists, which was postponed on May 21 by rain.

Rev. Father Fries has the right idea, as he thinks all the teams should be strong enough to make hard fought and exciting games, which is what the people want all the time.

Manager McCloskey of the Episcopalists is practicing a pinch base runner for his Colts.

Lou Mitchell places a pinch of Talcum Powder upon his bat before approaching the plate, but no one has as yet protested this practice.

Manager "Bobby" McGowan has a fast lot of base runners and also good hitters.

Pitcher Ralph Miller of the Lutherans has developed a dandy "spit-ball."

As an artistic slider, First-Sacker Newcomer certainly deserves the Rockefeller cheese, as in his recent mad dash for third base he turned a triple somersault, rested gracefully upon his left ear and grasped the bag with his right eye—since which "Newc" has not appeared in uniform.

RACE WAGERS IN INDIA.

Native's Method of Choosing a Winner and Making Bets.

The native of India wagers his money according to the colors worn by the jockeys and takes no heed of the merits of the horses, or he will back a horse ridden by his favorite jockey, no matter whether the animal is a rank outsider or not.

His ideas of gambling, in fact, are distinctly native. Some of the more wealthy Indians form rings and back every horse in the race, thus gaining the satisfaction of getting a winner every time. It is really only of late years that the native of India has become a habitual gambler on the turf, and nowadays the bulk of the betting of the various racing centers in India is done by natives. Indeed, the authorities are somewhat concerned about the growth of the betting which takes place among Indian natives, it being asserted that as many as thirty lacs of rupees (about $300,000) is lost and won in the course of a season.

The ignorant masses have not a great deal of actual money to wager, but so badly bitten are many of them with the craze for betting at race meetings that they frequently wager what little property they possess on a horse, and if they lose they simply replace their loss by stealing a neighbor's goods. The consequence is that when the racing season comes around the police are kept very busy dealing with cases of petty larceny and other crimes involving loss of property.—London Tit-Bits.

A Pepper Duel.

A certain literary and diplomatic friend of ours once took part in a pepper duel at a foreign restaurant. He was provoked to the contention by the quantity of stimulating condiment that a stranger across the table indulged in. The stranger sprinkled an unconscionable quantity of red pepper upon his food and proceeded to devour it to the wonder and admiration of onlookers. Thereupon with studied nonchalance the American swallowed an immense piece of chili pepper. Then the stranger added more red pepper, then the American another larger slice, covered with cayenne, and so on, till it seemed as if both would explode, while the other diners looked on against the American finally winning out with a prodigious dose defying all emulation.—Century.

EXPECTED THAT WORK WILL BE BEGUN SHORTLY

Depot Will be One of the Finest in Pennsylvania, Outside the Larger Cities, and Will Contain Three Rooms, Including Smoking Department.

COST WILL BE $20,000

Charleroi will this year, or the early part of next year have completed one of the handsomest and best equipped passenger stations in Western Pennsylvania. Word to this effect was this morning received by E. F. Krahmer, the local agent. An appropriation of $20,000 was granted Wednesday by the head officials of the road for the local station, and now preparations are being made to begin work as soon as possible.

There will be no new freight station erected at this time, only the passenger station, which will include the ticket office, and baggage room. Not only will it be the best along the Monongahela division, but it is doubtful if there is a station in Western Pennsylvania, outside of those in the large cities, which will surpass it in appearance and general accommodations, when it is finished. The plans which are in Division Superintendent A. G. Mitchell's office in Pittsburgh, call for three waiting rooms, one for women, one for men, and a smoking compartment. All the toilet accessories of the up-to-date station will be a part, and the ticket office and baggage room conveniently arranged in the one building.

The structure is to be of brick, with a tile roof, the sides of which will extend several feet allowing room underneath for a driveway. Around the station is to be a lawn, with flower beds and shrubbery beautifying it.

Work will be begun as soon as the contract can be let, and arrangements made. It is expected that this will not be more than a month, and all due haste will be made in completing the structure.

Much credit is due Mr. Krahmer for the granting of such an appropriation for Charleroi. He has been working hard to secure something worth while for this town, and by bidding his time he has succeeded admirably. The railroad company was influenced greatly, however, by the efforts of the Charleroi people in petitioning for a new structure.

Missionary Society Entertains Children Workers of Church

Interesting Program Rendered by Tots and Refreshments are Served.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Missionary Society of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church was held in the lecture room of the church and assumed the form of a reception to the "Light Bearers" and "Cradle Roll." Under the direction of the president, Mrs. Stahlman, the little tots performed their stunts in a manner which was both entertaining and amusing. At the conclusion of the program the regular routine business of the society was gone through with, after which mothers and children were treated to a veritable feast by the hostesses, Mrs. Stahlman, Mrs. Cary Piper and Mrs. Earl Piper. This latter part of the reception was evidently the most pleasing to the children, judging by the size of the smile they wore, as with mint sticks in one hand and ice cream cones in the other they marched out of the church not begrudging the two hours they spent at the reception.

EPISCOPALS WIN IN HOT CONTEST FROM CATHOLICS

Two Winning Runs are Scored in the Sixth Inning With Two Out.

The Episcopalians captured the game last night from the Catholics by the score of 7 to 5, through opportune hits, and errors conveniently made while men were on base. The contest was a good one, and was in doubt until the final inning.

The Catholics scored two in the second on two hits, by O'Neil and Mousiaux. In the third the Episcopalians came forward with three runs on two hits and a couple of errors. They got another in the fourth on a hit, a stolen base and an error. The Catholics came back with three in the fifth on a base on balls, two men hit by the pitcher, an error, and a two baser. When, with two out in the sixth, Montgomery singled, and Johnston got hit by the pitcher, through errors and good base running they tallied twice. The score:

PLAY RENDERED AS FEATURE OF CLUB MEETING

Social Gleaners' Entertainment at Baptist Church Last Evening.

The Baptist Social Gleaners' club held their last meeting until September last night at the Baptist church. A good program was rendered, and was listened to by a fair crowd. The principal feature of the program was a playlet, "City vs Country," which was rendered under the direction of Mrs. C. S. Joshua. The characters were taken by Mrs. Joshua, Mrs. C. O. Frye, Miss Jessie Everhaart, Rev. C. S. Joshua, Jay Reeves, and Floyd Chalfant. Rev. Joshua gave a lecture on Biblical characters. It is planned to have the meeting in September more elaborate than any that has yet been held with a better program.

CLAIMS THAT COAL COMPANY CAUSED HIM GREAT LOSS

B. C. Winnet of East Pike Run Sues Monongahela River Combine.

This week before Judge McIlvaine at Washington is being tried the case of B. C. Winnet against the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company. The plaintiff, who resides in East Pike Run township, seeks damages for the diverting of a water course on his farm by reason of mining operations carried on under the Jefferson Duvall farm adjoining his. Winnet claims that his farm has been left barren and unproductive and he has sustained serious loss.

Yesterday the jury was taken to the farm. They took dinner at the Wilbur Hotel, Charleroi, and with attorneys who were on the case, went out in the afternoon. There were 22 persons in the party.

Friends Feel No Alarm as to Final Outcome at Primaries

ACHESON'S WORK FUTILE

Washington Man's Attempt to Dictate Political Policies in District Falls Flat.

With this, the closing day of the campaign, the result is now in the hands of the voters for their final decision at the polls tomorrow. While it is not expected that so large a vote will be polled as two years ago, the friends and constituents of Congressman J. K. Tener are not in the least alarmed over his prospects for renomination. A close tab has been kept throughout the district, and no weak spots have shown up anywhere. There is no comparison with the situation two years ago, when former Congressman E. F. Acheson with all the Federal patronage and appointees, the political organizations in the three counties and the prestige of an unbroken administration of nearly 14 years at his command, was so overwhelmingly defeated by Mr. Tener.

Now, there is no semblance of an organization against the Charleroi candidate. His opponent was brought out through the urgent solicitation of Mr. Acheson, who represented that the local option sentiment in Washington county had grown to such magnitude that Mr. Tener would be overwhelmed when he came up for renomination. The abandonment of local option as an issue in this campaign by the Washington Observer, Mr. Acheson's organ, which has for the last two years kept the griddle hot with assertions as to how this campaign was to be fought out on local option lines, was a surprise to those who were inclined to accept the issue.

The fact that the Observer did not dare to line up a local option Legislative slate and make a fight for it on that issue, as it did two years ago, put a wet blanket on its following. As all the candidates of the slate that the Observer is secretly urging have not declared specifically for local option, their only expression on the subject being a line of "glittering generalities," there is just a faint suspicion that the Observer has other and ulterior motives than conscientious scruples against the liquor traffic and the general moral uplift of the public.

In the Senatorial and Legislative fights the issue is decidedly uncertain. Both Hailam and Anderson, the Republican Senatorial candidates, have made aggressive campaigns, and the friends of each are claiming victory. The Legislative fight is even more complicated. With 12 candidates for the Republican nomination in the field, it is pretty certain that the three that get the largest percentage of the disinterested vote will be the winners. Feeney, the Charleroi candidate who is being backed by the miners' organization, is considered a strong candidate as are also Bentley, Holland, McClay and Valentour who are thought to be among leaders in the race. Dr. Yarnall the California candidate, who was endorsed by the miners of that community, along with Feeney, has also a strong following.

The polls will open tomorrow at 2 o'clock and close at 8. The battle of the ballots will be a hard fought one, and the close contest in every section is expected to bring out the voters.

FOR ASSEMBLY

Subject to Republican Rule
Primaries, June 4th, 1910
Your support and influence respectfully solicited.

Voters, Turn Out.

That Congressman J. K. Tener will carry the borough of Charleroi tomorrow at the primaries goes without saying. It is a matter of pride to give an esteemed and respected citizen as large a vote as possible, and every voter should make it a point to cast his ballot at the election. As a Congressman Mr. Tener has shown his grateful appreciation of the honor and esteem bestowed upon him by his fellow townsmen, and as a citizen with mutual interests at stake his efforts for the district are in keeping with a safe and progressive National policy. He is worthy of all the support that will be given him.

At the primary election two years ago Mr. Tener received 932 votes out of a total of 1,147 ballots cast. This can even be exceeded this year if all the qualified voters will attend the election. Charleroi has over 1,600 registered voters, and as the majority of these are favorable to their townsman, it should be a matter of civic pride to give Mr. Tener as big a complimentary vote as possible. Charleroi should be the banner district in the county.

No Kick Coming.

Those who are trying hard to make an issue on State political bossism, will do well to read the following from the Philadelphia Evening Times, which aptly explains the situation as exists today. The Times says:

"The Republican party in Pennsylvania is freer from attack today than at any other time in the last fifty years. Such is the opinion of keen observers of things political, and even the critics of the State leaders and that clique of men who have formed themselves into an insurgent party."

"While there is the same dissatisfaction as in other States against the policies of the party, and the Democrats are awaiting with pathetic patience an opportunity to destroy the long continued sway of the Republican organization in State and municipal matters, yet the party is not divided, but has a bulwark in Governor Stuart."

"In less than four years, Governor Stuart has strengthened his party and placed it in a position where the reformer can no longer heap calumny or cry 'graft' and 'dishonesty in public office.' No act of his has weakened the party. Rather, he has given it a stability it has not enjoyed in decades, and by his administration has disarmed the opposition in using legitimate issues such as was the Capitol 'graft.' Above all, Governor Stuart has introduced business methods on the hill, and he has been so independent of political influence as to win the acclaim not only of the radical organization men, but of that class of men who are always opposed to those in power—the professional reformers."

With conditions as they are, and the Republican party freer from attack than at any time during the past fifty years, the voters have no kick

coming as to political conditions in Pennsylvania at the present time. The administration is in safe hands and the people know it.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

One of the best explanations for a defeated candidate is the laconic but truthful one, "lack of votes."

When an American millionaire manufacturer trades his daughter for an European title, he might buy the family coat of arms to use as a trade mark for beer, cereals, or some other old thing.

One of the troubles of this world is the phony friends you encounter.

One doesn't necessarily need to be an athlete who has the jumping tooth-ache.

Washington county had the largest number of insane persons sent to Dixment asylum during the past year of any county contributing to the lunatic population there. But there is plenty of justification in the fact that the howling of those raving maniacs over at the county seat drives others mad.

But one more day until some people feel worse off than before they entered the political arena as candidates.

Out of the twelve candidates for Assembly there is bound to be at least nine disappointed ones.

This weather has been referred to and commented upon freely as "some weather." We would say that it is only "some more weather."

The owners of the Brownsville bridge are doubtless hoping against hope that the dratted affair will fall in the river some day to save them the expense of tearing it down.

MODERN MARTYRS.

Those Who Entertain, but Who Suffer While Doing It.

"In a periodical the other day," says the amateur philosopher of the Providence Tribune, "I ran across a picture of what had evidently been a musical entertainment or musicale—I took it to have been a musical for choice."

"The docters had gone, and so had the soloist or soloists and guests. There remained in the foreground the deserted room and a waste of empty chairs, along with the open grand piano."

"The host's head was resting on his arms on a table. The hostess had removed her shoes and was on the verge of collapse. In the background a butler was looking on compassionately."

"Now, there's a good deal of that sort of thing first and last the country over. It was true to life, but I never could understand it—that is, nobody has ever explained to me why people who don't enjoy entertaining or being entertained persist in making martyrs of themselves. Why anybody does something for pleasure that invariably gives pain?"

"A person who puts himself out and wears himself out in the line of duty is comprehensible, but why you should sacrifice yourself when you're pretending to be looking for fun is beyond me."

"The woman who said that her idea of a perfect life from the social point of view would be to be asked everywhere and to go nowhere doubtless expressed the sentiments of thousands. But why go anywhere if you feel that way?"

Meat Versus Song.

The great tenor's lunch consisted of a cheese omelet, asparagus, fruit and an ice.

"No meat?" said the reporter.
"As little meat as possible," the tenor replied. "Meat kills song. The nightingale, the thrush and lark are grain eaters, and their song is sweet. The carnivorous birds, the crow, etc., only croak. And in countries that go in for excessive meat eating—England, for instance—there are few good voices, while in the more vegetarian countries, such as Italy, fine singers abound. Song birds are vegetarians," he concluded. "Carnivorous birds croak."—New York Press.

Her Awful Sin.

A little girl of six once went in great distress to her mother, saying that she had committed a sin which could never be forgiven and which was too bad to be repeated. By dint of a little coaxing she was induced to make a full confession, which was in this wise:

"I felt so sorry for poor Satan and wanted to give him a little comfort. So I got a glass of cold water and poured it down a little hole in the kitchen floor."

Resolutions of Respect

At a regular meeting of Charleroi Lodge No. 390, Fraternal Order of Eagles, held Friday evening, May 27, 1910, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God to remove from our midst our late beloved brother, William Allsopp; and

Resolved, That while we bow with humble submission to the will of the Most High, we do not the less mourn for our brother who has been taken from us.

Resolved, That in the death of William Allsopp this lodge laments the loss of a brother who was ever ready to offer the hand of aid and the voice of sympathy to the needy and distressed of the fraternity; an active member of this society, whose utmost endeavors were exerted for its welfare and prosperity; a friend and companion who was dear to us all; a citizen whose upright and noble life was a standard of emulation to his fellows.

Resolved, That the heartfelt sympathy of this lodge be extended to the bereaved wife and relatives in their affliction.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this lodge, and a copy be transmitted to the family of our deceased brother, and that they be published in the Charleroi Mail and Mirror.

AFFAIRS OF BASEBALL

Church Leaguists Going Well
Now in Contest for First Honors.

Christians still on top.

The Washington Avenue Presbyterians on the bottom

The Catholics can surely swat the ball

Manager Rickey is wearing an indecipherable smile.

Capt. Wertz and Coach Joe Mason are swatting the pill for the Lutherans.

Pitcher Beno of the Catholics looks good.

The Episcopalians are the only team to handle the white-wash brush thus far.

The Christians have signed a new catcher, and the Lutherans have also secured one.

Jay Bechtel has decided not to enter the arena, as he has a bum pedal and a poor wing.

Tommy Barger has not yet rounded into form, but by drinking four gallons of high grade tea per day he hopes for results.

The Baptists have strengthened up their team.

Indications are for a mighty warm race all the way and nobody is as yet wise enough to predict the winner.

The town as a whole has never before manifested such a keen interest in baseball.

The big Epworth League Convention on June 8 will insure a monster crowd that day for the game between the Catholics and Methodists, which was postponed on May 24 by rain.

Rev. Father Fries has the right idea, as he thinks all the teams should be strong enough to make hard fought and exciting games, which is what the people want all the time.

Manager McCloskey of the Episcopalians is practicing a pinch base runner for his Colts.

Loo Mitchell places a pinch of Talcum Powder upon his bat before approaching the plate, but no one has as yet protested this practice.

Manager "Bobby" McGowan has a fast lot of base runners and also good hitters.

Pitcher Ralph Miller of the Lutherans has developed a dandy "spit-ball."

As an artistic slider, First-Sacker Newcomer certainly deserves the Roquefort cheese, as in his recent mad dash for third base he turned a triple somersault, rested gracefully upon his left ear and grasped the bag with his right eye—since which "New" has not appeared in uniform.

THE WAKING PROCESS.

Easy Scheme to End Your Sleep at Any Hour You Wish.

"We hear it frequently asserted that if persons will impress the thought firmly upon their minds and continue thinking about it until they have fallen asleep that they desire to awake at a certain hour in the morning they will do so without fail," said Dr. Joseph Boehm in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. "But how many people have tried this method of insuring a prompt awakening at a given hour in the morning only to find their rest throughout the night disturbed and uneasy."

"The brain will usually respond to the will and awaken one in the morning near the desired hour under any circumstances, but to prevent the broken, uneasy sleep the adoption of only a very simple device is necessary. The last thing before getting into bed take a watch or clock and turn the hands to the hour at which one wishes to rise and gaze at this just long enough to fix the hour firmly on the retentive memory. Then if no other absorbing thoughts intervene between that and the moment one is locked in slumber the night's rest will be easy and unbroken, and promptly at the hour in the morning, as a rule, one will not even be roused from sleep and will awake. There is no need to repeat it over and over in the mind. As this makes the brain uneasy and results in the disturbed slumber. Simply look at the watch or clock, as I have indicated, and the influence of the mind over matter will be clearly demonstrated in the morning. Try it some night and observe how smoothly this physiological fact works."

Hanged For Violating Smoke Law.

Curious and little known facts about the house fire were mentioned by E. H. Blake, addressing the surveyors' institution on warning and ventilation. Fires were at one time a great luxury, he said, and even the right to use the fire had been bequeathed. Thus the will of one Richard Byrcht (1516) read:

"I will it said Nell my wife shall have ye chamber she lies in and lybere at ye frer in the house; all these things shall she have so long as she ys wido."

Coal, continued Mr. Blake, was first imported into London at the end of the thirteenth century, but the smoke produced by burning it in improperly constructed grates caused such a prejudice against it that in 1306 a law was passed making it a capital offense to burn coal in the city. The Tower records give details of a man's trial and execution for the offense.—London Graphic.

Fluding the Officers.

Here is an amusing description of one of Balzac's periods of impecuniosity. Merry, the poet, a great friend of Balzac, was an inveterate gambler and rarely left the card table before daybreak. His way lay past the Cafe de Paris, and for four consecutive mornings he had met Balzac strolling leisurely up and down dressed in a pantalon a pids (trousers not terminating below the ankle, but with feet in them like stockings) and frock coat with velvet facings. The second morning Merry felt surprised at the coincidence: the third he was puzzled; the fourth he could hold out no longer and asked Balzac the reason of these nocturnal perambulations roundabout the same spot.

Balzac put his hand in his pocket and produced an almanac showing that the sun did not rise before 3:50. "I am being tracked by the officers of the tribunal de commerce and obliged to hide myself during the day, but at this hour I am free and can take a walk, for as long as the sun is not up they cannot arrest me."

... Cowboy Story.

"Faking aside," said the nature student, "there is in New Zealand a cowboy spider. This creature throws a coil of web like a lasso over its prey's head, then adds more and more coils and when the prey is bound hand and foot devours it."

"There is a Borneo spider that in the spring days plays a fiddle. It is a common thing for a loreslek spider to dance before his girl, but this Borneo bug may draw his arm across his body and produce a sweet, clear note. Whenever he sees a good looking young lady spider he stops and gives her a tune, hoping to win her by music."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Miners' Freedom From Cancer.

"Miners never have cancer. In thirty-five years' practice in a mining town I haven't had a single cancerous patient."

"And to what, doctor, do you impute this immunity?"

"Miners are singularly cleanly. They bathe every day. They rarely smoke. They are a temperate and regular set. Above all!"

The physician smiled grimly. "Miners," he said, "die young. Cancer is an old age disease. And there really is the reason of the miner's cancerous immunity."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Yarmouth's Narrow Street.

Kitty Witches row. Great Yarmouth, can justly claim to be the narrowest street in the world, the entrance at one end being only twenty-nine inches and at the other fifty-six inches. It gives some idea of the width when one mentions that neighbors can shake hands and put out each other's candles across the street! Why these rows have been so constructed has given rise to a good deal of discussion. Some writers give the reason that when there was a very high tide the water might flow through them; others, in the event of an invasion they would prove an excellent means of defense or that the ground plans of the rows were suggested by the fishermen's nets, which spread on the dunes to dry, had a narrow pathway left between them, which represented the rows. Yarmouth has 145 rows, and their total length exceeds seven miles. Kitty Witches being the most interesting and the narrowest of all.

CHRISTIANS GIVEN

INITIAL DRUBBING BY PRESBYTERIANS

The Christians sustained their first defeat of the season last night when the First Presbyterians showed them how the game of baseball should be played by a final score of 12 to 1. The Christians hardly got a look-in while the Presbyterians were busy tallying. The Presbyterians started things moving right off the reel, and before the Christians could hardly collect themselves had battered one man out of the box, and given another an ill feeling for a total of 10 scores in three innings. Three of these were in the first, four in the second and three in the third. The Christians got their lone tally in the fifth inning, when Ed. Miller singled, and stole everything but home plate, Cratty coming to his relief with a timely single. The score:

FIVE GOOD GAMES

SCHEDULED NEXT WEEK IN LEAGUE

Five interesting games are scheduled in the Charleroi Church league for next week as follows:

Monday—Baptists, vs Christians; Tuesday—Catholics vs. First Presbyterians; Wednesday—Catholics vs. Methodists; Thursday—Lutherans vs. Episcopalists; Friday—Methodists vs. Washington Presbyterians.

The schedule committee has announced that the postponed game between the two Presbyterian teams will be played off Wednesday evening June 15, while the twice delayed contest between the Episcopalists and Methodists will be played off June 22. These are the only postponed games now on the docket. Wednesday's battle between the Catholics and Methodists will prove especially well attended owing to the Epworth League convention and Catholics Total Abstinence Union convention here on that date.

Going Some.

"Yes, sir," said old man Braggard, "as soon as I see them birds I went into the house and took down the old blunderbuss and pegged at 'em, and by gorry, I brought down thirty birds to one shot. Can ye beat that?"

"Ya-as," drawled Uncle Si Peaver. "You know Bill Wiggins' frog pond?"

"Yes," said old man Braggard. "What of it?"

"Well, I went down there the other night after sundown to shoot a couple of bullfrogs with my old shotgun," said Uncle Si. "There was 5,000 of 'em settled on them there lily pads, and I just lifted that there gun to my shoulder and let her go."

"Spose you did," said old man Braggard. "How does that affect my bird story?"

"Beats it all holier," retorted Uncle Si. "The minute my gun went off them hull durned 5,000 bullfrogs croaked."—Harper's Weekly.

She Makes a Suggestion.

"How beautiful and clean the horizon looks," said Polly as on the second day out she came up on deck and threw herself down in the steamer chair beside me. "Well it ought to be," said I, looking up from my book. "The captain has been sweeping it with his glass for the past six hours." "That reminds me," said Polly, turning two very grave brown eyes upon me. "Did you remember to bring that vacuum cleaner along with you, as I suggested?" "No," said I unwarily. "I remembered to forget it, however. What our earth does anybody want with a vacuum cleaner at sea?" "It was only for you, dear," said Polly. "I thought you would like to have your brains massaged with it occasionally."—New York Times.
